To visit an imprisoned parent in custody and/ or in prison

Visiting an imprisoned parent in custody and/or in prison

- What is it like visiting a parent in custody and/ or in prison?
- What works well?
- What can be improved?

“Whatever he has done he is still my father.”

Visits and visitation area

"...we sit and play dominoes, but at the same time I do the math, while we sit and talk - we are almost doing three things at once. We're doing all the things during the time we have, as much as we have time to do."

Josefin

"To be able to go with my dad and see where he lives. To watch a movie with him. / ... / To eat together and maybe outside, even if there is some kind of cage up there. To do ordinary things. Have a bite to eat at Mc Donalds."

Vera

Information

"It's because we are not gonna help him escape, I mean so that we're not gonna try to break the glass and run away with dad."

Ivar

And the whole time I was thinking – “What would have happened if it was a fire?” It's really difficult to get through all those doors. I was just thinking “God, they must have someone really dangerous in this custody / ... /? ”

Josefin

Attitude from the staff

*"Whatever he's done
he is still my father."*

Vera

"Sometimes I talk to the police that work here. But sometimes they don't answer. And sometimes they tell me that I can have a colouring book. "

Henrik

Contact

"And the letters take too long to deliver, and then you have already said it."

Vera

"Of course you appreciate the two calls a week that we have when I haven't heard from my mother for several weeks."

Maria
